30 page full colour book for
Primary School aged children.

Addresses a range of feelings that a child may experience when there is family conflict or violence. It suggests ways that may assist a child to deal with their home situation and gives ideas on people they could talk to if they are frightened or feel unsafe.

The sensitive text and beautiful illustrations portray a variety of families and their individual circumstances. It addresses difficult topics and helps to give a voice to children who may feel isolated and unable to speak out.

An excellent resource for libraries, teachers and guidance officers, for women's shelters, parents, friends and counsellors.
